RIGHTS & PERMISSIONS

Honoring the work. Protecting the music.

Music and creative materials

The songs, lyrics, musical compositions, sound recordings, photographs, artwork, written contributions, names, logos and other materials featured in this keepsake and associated event remain subject to the rights of their respective owners. No blanket claim of ownership over every contribution is made by this publication.

Commercial use requires prior written permission

Except where a valid existing license or applicable law authorizes the use, no music, lyrics, recording or excerpt may be used for commercial purposes without prior written permission from the relevant rights holder(s) or their authorized representative(s). This includes use in advertising, sponsored or monetized content, brand campaigns, promotional videos, films, podcasts, products, paid courses and other business or revenue-generating projects.

Listening does not grant a reuse license

Attending the event, downloading this keepsake, purchasing or streaming an album, or accessing a song sample does not itself grant permission to copy, redistribute, sample, remix, adapt, synchronize with video, publicly perform or otherwise commercially exploit the music. Attribution alone does not replace required permission.

Clear the rights relevant to your project

Rights in a musical composition and rights in a particular sound recording are separate. Your proposed use may require authorization from more than one rights holder, as well as any other applicable licenses. Permission for one song, recording, platform or project does not automatically cover another use.

Request permission before use

Submit the song title, recording/version, proposed use, platform, audience, territory, duration, monetization details and intended release date. Do not proceed until the necessary written permissions or licenses are in place. Contact the songwriter through her listed link; for assistance, visit bklyncustomdesigns.com.

Other materials and trademarks

Photographs, biographies, purpose statements, artwork and event branding are included for this keepsake; their inclusion does not grant a separate reuse license. Brand and product names and marks belong to their respective owners. Nothing in this notice limits rights, exceptions or limitations available under applicable law.

Charlene Brown

SONGWRITER · CREATIVE DIRECTOR

Digital Flagship

Charlene Brown, known as da Tech Conjurer™, is a Songwriter and Digital Music Creator and a Creative Consultant with Brand Misfit™ Media. She brings more than 20 years across tech, brand strategy, and digital communications, along with experience as a Creative Director and Project Manager, to everything she makes. That means a song goes from concept to lyrics to sound to finished release with intention at every step. Brooklyn-rooted and Miami-raised by Caribbean parents, she brings culture, humor, and straight talk to every room. Her work turns brand philosophy into songs people feel. Her rule: clarity creates better choices, so lead with tech and never be led by it.

IN HER OWN WORDS

Why this album. Why this moment.

Music has always been a consistent thread in my life. Over the years, I've connected it with ideas that may seem off the beaten path but speak to experiences so many of us share. I had stories, insights, and hopes I wanted to express that didn't fit naturally into my training, client work, or the books I've written.

This project gave those thoughts another way to be heard. By bringing my words together with rhythm and feeling, I could share my experiences and hopes through the connection only music can create—one that reaches our core and speaks to our spirit. This album is another way for me to tell my story and connect with the people who hear a piece of their own lives in it.

Shirley Ann Felder

SONGWRITER

Ordinary Greatness

Coach Shirley Ann Felder is a motivational speaker, life coach, comedian, bestselling co-author, and songwriter behind Ordinary Greatness. Known as the “Trash Talk Queen,” she draws on more than three decades of entrepreneurship and lived experience to help women release what weighs them down, recycle their lessons, reclaim their power, and rise. Her songs put her words and stories to music, sharing messages of resilience, self-worth, and becoming. With warmth, humor, and truth, she reminds women that their hardest chapters do not get the final word.

IN HER OWN WORDS

Why this album. Why this moment.

This project meant more to me than I ever imagined. At 60 years old, after a lifetime of using my voice through speaking, coaching, storytelling, and comedy, I never imagined my words would become music! It reminded me that we’re never too old to discover another part of ourselves. I’ve experienced loss, success, failure, and reinvention, and this album gave me another way to turn those life lessons into messages of hope, joy, and encouragement. For me, it wasn’t about becoming a singer. It was about becoming another version of myself.

What made this experience even more special was the community. Marcy, Karan, Clavia, and Charlene are women I connected with through Clubhouse, and I’ve had the pleasure of supporting and celebrating them over the years. To be invited into this experience truly touched my heart. Community means everything to me. My little album could’ve been out here all by its lonesome, but instead, I’m sharing this moment with some amazing women! If our music touches even one woman and reminds her that she’s not alone and it’s never too late to begin again, then we’ve done something beautiful. I’m just sayin’, we’re not done becoming!

Clavia Allen

SONGWRITER

CHOSEN

Born in Trinidad and raised in Brooklyn, Clavia Allen now resides in Central Florida. Through her journey, Clavia has grown to know her worth, learning to let go, release what no longer serves her, and embrace each day as a new opportunity. As a servant leader of Chosen31 Essentials, Clavia embodies the mission of empowerment, healing, and growth. She leads with compassion, integrity, and vision, prioritizing the needs of her team and community while fostering an environment of support, transformation, and purpose. Her life and leadership reflect a commitment to helping others recognize their worth, walk boldly in their purpose, and understand that every new day offers another opportunity to become who they were chosen to be.

IN HER OWN WORDS

Why this album. Why this moment.

The Chosen31 album is more than a musical project to me; it is my story in a nutshell, reflecting my roots, my growth, and the hand of God throughout my journey. I have been writing songs since I was young, primarily worship songs and songs of adoration to the Lord, so when this project was presented to me, I was excited to see my story come to life in a way beyond my own voice. Although I may not be the one singing, you can experience me in every part of this project, from where I was born and raised to the experiences that have shaped the woman I am today. Chosen31 is the beginning of something bigger than me, a testament to purpose, identity, and the beautiful ways God can use our stories to inspire others. My prayer is that through this project, people will see pieces of their own journeys, recognize that their stories matter, and above all, give God all the glory!

Marcy Trueheart

SONGWRITER

Birthright Alignment

Marcy Trueheart is a Modern Proverbs 31 Woman, bestselling author, mental health and gun violence prevention advocate, podcaster, affirmation installer, creative, and community servant whose life reflects faith, healing, purpose, and transformation. She co-hosts the Thursday Therapy Podcast, a space for courageous conversations that break mental health stigma, and Elevated H.E.R. (Healing • Elevating • Repositioning), a platform empowering women to heal, rediscover themselves, and step boldly into their next chapter. Her debut album Birthright Alignment, available now across all music platforms, blends healing, self-discovery, empowerment, and ancestral connection through sound. Her signature reminder says it all: “I love you, and there’s nothing you could do about it.”

IN HER OWN WORDS

Why this album. Why this moment.

My why is legacy. This album turns my experiences, emotions, and spiritual connections into music—to honor my ancestors, celebrate sisterhood, express my love for my grandson, and honor the healing process. Every song carries a piece of my heart.

I stand on the shoulders of those who came before me, and I want future generations to stand on mine. Through my obedience to God and connection with the universe, I’m planting seeds of love, joy, peace, healing, and service. I want my grandson and generations to come to hear these songs and know who I was, what I believed, and how deeply I loved.

Karon Fayerweather

SONGWRITER

Boldly Becoming Her

Karon Fayerweather is a women's empowerment speaker, coach, two-time bestselling author, and the lyricist and creative visionary behind the album Boldly Becoming Her. Drawing on her own experience of rebuilding in midlife, she helps women—especially Black women—reclaim who they are, make deliberate choices, and create room for the life they want now through her Her Bold Second Act™ framework. Her album carries that message into music, giving voice to the tenderness, courage, and uncertainty of healing and beginning again. With honesty, warmth, and conviction, she reminds women that their next chapter deserves more than their endurance—it deserves their presence.

IN HER OWN WORDS

Why this album. Why this moment.

Boldly Becoming Her is personal. These songs hold experiences I've lived, lessons I'm still understanding, and words I needed to hear. They also reflect how I lead and coach other women, especially Black women in midlife.

I know what it means to keep showing up through pain, disappointment, and exhaustion while helping everyone else keep going. It's time to put ourselves at the center of our own lives—to make room for our needs, desires, rest, and joy. Sharing this music is one way I'm doing that for myself, while inviting other women to hear the stories behind the words and make room for themselves, too.
